MESSAGE TO SENIORS

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

The shock of the future is upon us. You may not feel it because it seems natural to you. I urge you, however, to look at these past several months with some historical distance so that you might appreciat the exciting educational revolution which began your senior year.

Manchester, in general, is cautious and conservative; change must be justified. Yet your school-life ha changed considerably in just one year. Remember your recent past well because you are on the edge o radical movement in education. Thus you will have a unique view of the "good old days" as you experience the first wave of this reformation. You will be able to tell your children about the days when teachers dispensed information in lecture format. You can speak fondly of how much more meaningful i was to write your essays with an expressive cursive style (don't forget to tell them that you used a pen) In those days, you will remember, there were large textbooks to carry every night; each weighed 20 to pounds. Punctuality required extra effort; you had to have that paper handed in on time even if you we absent. Everyone didn't have a fax machine.

If this sounds far-fetched, consider what has happened since September. The Student Council has considered purchasing a MacIntosh computer so students can gain more access to that handy machine Students are now studying foreign language by way of an interactive video of a professor whose image comes to our school by way of a satellite. Beyond technological changes, Manchester opened its doors all students in Massachusetts when, in the past, proposals to form such partnerships were thought to b unacceptable. And who would have imagined that we would have football and ice hockey teams that included both Manchester and Rockport athletes.

This is just the beginning, the future is now. It is exhilarating especially if you make yourself aware of that is happening around you and to you. Be part of it, enjoy it. You are ready.

GUEST STARS

Stefanie Winterhalder is a senior this year visiting from Germany. Her favorite subjects in school are Painting with Mrs. Benson, and Economics with Mrs. Benoit. She also likes going to MHS football games and cheering on the Hornets.

Stefanie says that her favorite thing about America is getting her learner's permit at sixteen and her license at sixteen and a half. She also enjoys other American customs like Dunkin' Donuts and the malls.

"It was sometimes hard for me because the school systems are very dissimilar and it's also much stricter in the United States," says Stefanie. She is happy that "the people in this school accept me for how I am, because German culture is so different and I'm so different, too."

We hope Stefanie has had a good year at MHS-she was a welcome addition to the class of 1992.

Manny moved here from Belfast, Ireland, in August of 1990. One of the main reasons for moving to the United States was to go to school here. His favorite class at Manchester was psychology with Mrs. Crosby. He has played football for the past two years here and has done quite well considering that there is no football in Ireland. He also enjoys listening to music and watching various sports on television.

His family in Ireland consists of his mother, father, two sisters, and one brother. He would like to go back to Ireland to visit but remain in the United States to live. Manny comments on the many differences between Ireland and the United States including a different driving age. Manny has indefinite plans to join the U.S. Marines after he graduates from Manchester Jr. Sr. High School. Whatever he does, he will always be remembered here in Manchester.

What a babe!

TENTH REUNION

The invitations were sent out in plenty of time, but only one person showed up on the night of the big event. WHY???

Laura Ananian is still crying over the death in 90210.
Eric Brisette is just Stayin' Alive.
Tina Brooks is being crowned Queen at the National "Greasa" Convention.
Jake Colon was banned from attending any school-related functions after graduation.
Jen Dackert is in Spain, but this time she brought her own house.
Jeff Delaney is signing his name at the Sidewalk of the Stars at Brown's.
Kirk Forsyth moved to California to play professional air guitar.
Kevin Gagne is still in a slump after being fired from the Aquarium.
Danielle Gauthier is asleep at the beach.
Lori Glickman is running another Spirit Week with Max Arnaud.
Becca Goutal is in Guatemala running a Newborn Christian colony.
Margaret Graves is still spell-checking her last sports article.
Matthew Graves didn't come because his date got violently ill.
Sam Harrington didn't come because his girlfriend was at a Brownie convention.
Peter Holl didn't want to drive all the way there.
Kymbre Hopkinson got fat- she broke the 90 lb. barrier.
Erik Johnson didn't make it- his mother forgot to wake him up.
Kristin Kershaw is driving Bessie cross-country in search of a blue-haired commune.
Peter Koeplin is a spokes-model for Miss Clairol hair products.
Nicolle LaFreniere was afraid to put her R.S.V.P. in writing.
Brandon Lamphear wouldn't come- Buddha told him it would take away part of his soul.
Stephen Laspesa finally became a TOP DOG and was too cool to come.
Brett Loffredo became a rebel and is reliving the Haight-Ashbury days.
Lee Malo (Eel Olam) is practicing Hooked on Phonics.
Jeremy McClain finally broke free and is living on top of a mountain in Colorado.
Laura McLane is lobbying for trashmen's rights.
Maggie MeLampy took a wrong turn and ended up in Manchester, NH.
David Mesgar is playing basketball. (He forgot anyway)
John Morgan moved to Japan and became a professional origamiist.
Jay O'Brien is working to pay off his $400 debt he got on the way to a math meet.
Holly Park was going to go with Smitty but decided not to at the last minute.
Manny Quinn is on the road with Prince.
Erin Quinn wouldn't come because she thought it was too LAME.
Tom Salter is still flirting with Jr. High girls.
Aubrey Seaver attended the '88 reunion instead.
Barak Sharpe is working at the Paramount Cafe in Denver.
Jeff Smith showed up- we knew he would.
Denise VanKnowe was too scared to come.
Judd Weld had to work a double shift at the Gulf Station.
John Wiedenmann is at home trying to scrape the brown off his nose.
Stefanie Winterhalder is selling cheesecake.
Adam Wogan is Co-Dean of Admissions at Georgetown with Erin.
Monica Yu was too slow and her ride left without her.

THANKS, WE'LL MISS YOU.

In 1956 Edward Field came to M.H.S. to teach English and coach football. He's been loved by all ever since, but sadly he's leaving now. We will miss his jokes and humor, but most of all we will miss him. We'll never forget you, Coach.

Ernest Shepard came to Manchester in 1961 to teach history. Through his thirty years at M.H.S. Mr. Shepard has become familar to his students as an intelligent, trusting, and concerned man. His great knowledge of U.S. History has entrigued many students. He will be missed greatly both in the history department and by the student body.

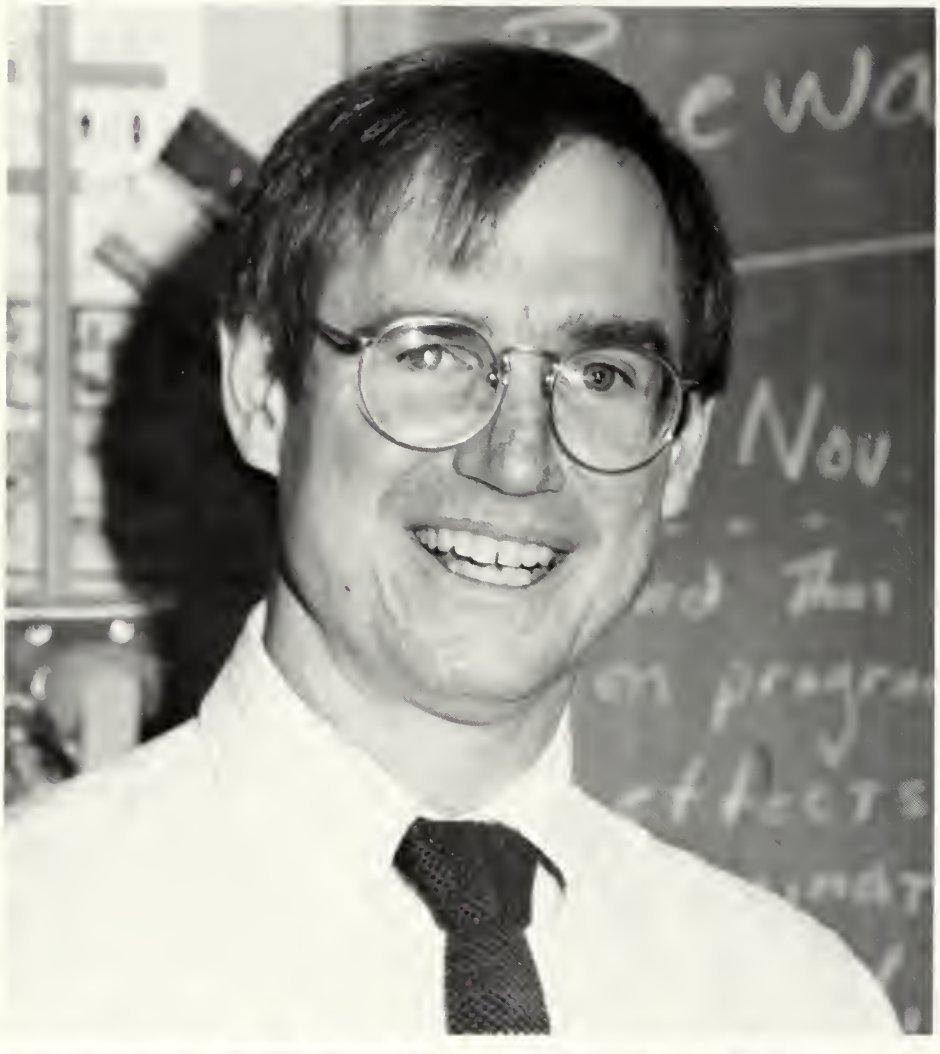
DEDICATION



Behind the scene and center stage, Mr. Averill has made many valuable contributions to student activities here at Manchester High School. He has had many successful years as both an English teacher and as coach of the nationally acclaimed Debate Team. In addition to these time consuming positions, he went even further to organize a student newspaper with the help of the student body. The Manchester Independent has received many positive reviews.

We would like to thank him for being such a supportive friend to his students by dedicating the 1992 Anchor to Mr. Tim Averill.

We've Begun Our Second Century Of Proud Service To The People Of Cape Ann.

We're the Addison Gilbert Hospital family of health-care services—your community hospital. For the past 102 years, we've provided the best in leading-edge health technology and personalized patient care to the communities of Cape Ann and the North Shore. Today, we're still focused on improving the quality of life here.

We've made caring our business since 1889, and we wish the Manchester High School Class of 1992 all the best for the future.

Congratulations and good luck from the entire AGH family!
